

A photograph of a forest playground. In the foreground, there's a large, gnarled, grey tree trunk lying horizontally. Behind it, several vertical wooden posts of different heights and colors (red, yellow, grey) are planted in the ground. To the left, there are evergreen trees with red berries. To the right, there are bare deciduous trees. A colorful, abstract sculpture is visible at the bottom. The text 'Hindernisse und freie Aussicht' is overlaid on a yellow box at the bottom left.
